The Installation of Prefects

It has been an unusual year at Branksome in more ways than one. This year an exceptional number of students qualified for positions of responsibility at the school and there were two separate Installations of Prefects.

At the first ceremony on October 18th, the traditional colourful procession marched slowly into the gymnasium between the ranks of a guard of honour formed by part of the Fifth Form. There were last year's prefects wearing green kilts; the clan chieftains resplendent in their tartans, carrying the towering clan standards; the staff in traditional academic costume; Miss Read with the guest speaker, Mr. Ketchum, headmaster of St. Andrew's College, and finally the new prefects wearing the bright red of the Royal Stewart. It was a most impressive sight.

After Miss Read's introductory address, the new officers of the school were installed. Then the retiring prefects handed over to the new prefects the school flags symbolizing Truth, Honesty, Justice, and Purity. Each of these was placed in one of the four corners of the building. After this, Mr. Ketchum gave an amusing but informative speech appropriate to the occasion. He said that we must always "Keep well the road" and that a busy school life full of responsibilities lays a firm foundation for the problems which lie ahead. Branksome, he said, gives us all this that we ought to benefit from and appreciate. The school song was sung, the school prayer was said and the whole procession marched out again.

On February 13th four more prefects and several sub-prefects were added to the list, to the delight of all. Again there was the traditional procession and Miss Read gave a short talk. With these two memorable ceremonies another group of Branksomeites was officially put to work, to help keep Branksome going "up and on."

THE EDITORIAL

Your editors have been reading the first issue of "The Slogan" which was published in 1910. It makes fascinating reading! The chief topics of general interest seem to have been the Budget elections in England, Halley's Comet, and the death of King Edward VII. The editor says, "Think of the earthquakes, floods, air-ships, Arctic discoveries, political crises, and phenomena of the heavens we have already in store. We shall be quite interesting old ladies I am sure!" Yes, they had all those things, but so have we—triplefold! Science has advanced at an unprecedented rate; "political crises" are everywhere; three English kings have been crowned since then and many thrones have toppled. Yes, forty years have made a great difference to the world, but what have they done to Branksome?

In forty years Branksome has grown from one great old house at 102 Bloor Street East (the site of the present Manufacturers Life Insurance Building), to five great old houses with their additional modern classrooms on Elm Avenue in the heart of Rosedale. A small list of alumnae has grown into a list of hundreds. This year, we hope that we have started a custom in Canada by having as visitors, the representatives from an American school. The English exchange of pupils has been continued successfully.

Yet for all these material changes Branksome is still the same. The intangible "something" which is the spirit of the school (—the comradeship and the sportsmanship, and in greater measure than ever, the basic training in thinking for ourselves—) always has been and always will be an integral part of the Branksome tradition.

But what else constitutes the tradition of a school and causes the love for it which burns in the heart of every graduate? At Branksome a happy mixture of many factors creates this feeling. The name, Branksome Hall, and the choice of the kilt and the clans, the newly-added Branksome Honours—these give us the romance and picturesqueness of Scotland. What other school can boast of this? And what other school has a Miss Read? To many of the students and graduates Miss Read is Branksome. In how many "Slogans" since 1910 may we read the words "owing to the energetic efforts of Miss Read." How typical it is that it was Miss Read who woke the house girls at 3.30 a.m. to see Halley's Comet! Miss Read, with her youthful spirit, her broad outlook and her understanding of problems, is a principal of whom we are all proud. To very few comes the opportunity to influence so many lives or to hold the affection of so many. In the times of stress that will come to us all, we know that our memories will flash back to her earnest words of a belief in the goodness of God.

To conclude, may we again refer to the first "Slogan" and say with it, "Dear Old Branksome?"

A Message From the Head Girl

Never before at Branksome has there been such a list of interesting events during the school year. All the traditional ceremonies which we look forward to annually have taken place; old customs have been renewed and new ones instituted.

At the Installation of Prefects our ideals of Honesty, Purity, Justice and Truth were reaffirmed. At the Gathering of the Clans new girls and old girls were bound together by the school spirit and the good sportsmanship which have prevailed throughout the year.

Old customs have been renewed with the exchange of pupils between Branksome Hall and the Sherborne School in England. Another friendly exchange of friendship occurred with the visit of girls from the Laurel School in Cleveland, Ohio.

In keeping with our Scottish traditions, Highland dances and reels have become very popular at Branksome this year. The year 1950-51 has given us yet another new custom, which we who are graduating leave with you to carry on into the future . . .

We give you the Branksome Honours!

ANN GILDAY,
Head Girl.

PRAYER WRITTEN FOR BRANKSOME HALL BY THE REVEREND ROBERT BARR

Our age with dauntless heart must meet
New challenges in home and street
With proud traditions, keep our name,
A spirit-kindled, living flame.
Receive God's Word, let it within Direct your going out and in.

Deut. 31:6

Psalm 16:6
Mt. 5:16
Ps. 119:11
Ps. 121:8

Be steadfast on the King's Highway.
Remember, what you do and say
A pattern makes of every day.
New lustre Branksome Hall will gain,
Kept free by you from blot and stain,
Soul culture matched with eager brain.
Outdo the splendours of past years.
Meet disappointment without tears.
Engage life as brave mountaineers.

OUR ALBUM OF GRADUATES

PREFECTS

Ellen Avigdor—Bibi is our most efficient School Librarian. One half of the German class, she excels in this subject. Noted for her good humour, her serenity, and the drawings in her notebook (!), Bibi is headed for Art and Archaeology to "Vic" next year. (No, she does NOT play bridge !!)

Johanna Broughall—Loyal, hard-working Joey has been a pillar of the school for ten years. She is the capable Advertising Editor of "The Slogan," our Eaton's Representative, and still has time to make us laugh. Next—nursing at the Sick Children's. Best of luck, Joey!

Charlotte Campbell—Our demure blonde from VB can always be heard chuckling at Ally's lunch-time jokes. She is noted for her cheery "HELLOOO there!" which daily resounds through our halls. A loyal prefect and chieftain of the Campbell Clan, Char intends to enter the nursing profession.

Jocelyn Campbell—Watching the quick play of expressions on Josie's countenance as she tells one of her amusing stories has endeared this prefect to all her schoolmates. A vivacious actress and an active member of the Modern Dance Group, her future plans include the Physio-Occupational Therapy Course at Varsity.

Eve Cassels—Eve is a guard on the First Basketball Team, school badminton champion and an Opheleo member. Her summer is to be spent as a counsellor at camp. After that Eve is not sure what she will be doing—but whatever she does is bound to be done well.

Sally Jane Dibblee—How can we do justice to this dynamic personality in only a few words? Lynn is President of the Betta Kappa, a guard on the First Basketball Team, and an avid theatre fan. As acting is her first love, she plans to study Dramatics at Columbia next year.

Anna Lea Elderkin—Our energetic Chieftain of the Scott Clan and Vice-President of the Opheleo is the contribution of the sunny south. Her favourite pastimes are archery, badminton, and trigonometry. "Anne" plans to take her sweet disposition and mathematical brain to McGill, where we wish her every success.

Mary Lue Farmer—Lue is always surprising us with a new talent. She is Supervisor of Station B.H.S., a member of the Gym and Debating Teams, and of the Senior Choir. Her form of spring fever this year was measles! Future . . . Soc. and Phil. at Varsity.

Ann Gilday—Ann has that indescribable something that makes her such a splendid Head Girl! Quiet but full of fun, she has a friendly word and a smile for everyone. Her interests are in music and sports in which she excels. Ann is going to be a nurse and a very good one, too. We know.

Geraldine Jephcott—"Gerry", the prefect with a twinkle in her eye, is the envy of VA for her amazing marks and Florida tan. As Art Editor of "The Slogan" and our Simpson's Representative, she has done a wonderful job. We wish her the best of luck in Art and Archaeology next year at Trinity.

THE BRANKSOME SLOGAN

PREFECTS

Joan Mawhinney—A true listener at all times! Joan can always smile with you or console you. A Prefect, a guard on the First Basketball Team, an advisor on the Beta Kappa, and a member of the Gym Team, Joan has been a great asset. Future—Psychology at U. of T.

Elizabeth McBurney—Liz, who comes from Niagara Falls, has spent several years at Branksome. A Prefect, she is a girl whom everybody loves for her friendliness and good humour. Her hobby is following the hockey games. Best of luck next year at Western, Liz.

Claire McMullen—Always chipper is our "baby" Claire! She's the live-wire President of the Opheleo and is rarely serious except when campaigning. What a forward—what a gymnast—what a swimmer and tennis player! Physical Education is the next thing for Claire to conquer—but that should be easy!

Carol Jean Merritt—C. J. is one of "those brains," and a great sports' enthusiast, too, noted for her constant good humour. Among her many activities are debating, gymnastics, and acting. Arts at University of Toronto next year?

Mary Morgan—One of our most prominent actresses, Mary is well-known for her lyrical voice which has won her high honours in the Ontario Verse-Speaking Contest in the last five years and which is constantly heard on the "B.B.C." on Friday mornings. Future—Soc. and Phil. (?) at U. of T.

Allison Roach—This industrious Prefect has kept us chuckling for years. Noted for her stellar performances in plays and on the First Basketball Team, she is Photography Editor of "The Slogan" and Secretary-Treasurer of the Opheleo. Ally plans to study English at "Vic," where she should be a great success. Charge!

Frances Stone—Frankie's cheery smile makes her a welcome member of any group. Best known for her lovely singing, this friendly Prefect from Pt. Edward (Sarnia!) hopes to take nursing next year. What will we do without our Frankie?

Marian Wallace—This energetic and dependable Prefect can always be counted on to lend a willing hand at any time. Sports editor of "The Slogan," and a sports enthusiast, her good advice and keen sense of humour are most appreciated. See you at U. of T. next year, Wally!

Gilda Walwyn—Bright and cheery Gil is always able to make us laugh! Prefect, Symphony Representative, member of the "Slogan" Committee, forward on the Second Basketball Team, she is much in demand. Next year we'll find Gil studying Physio-Occupational Therapy at Varsity.

Margaret Wansbrough—Secretary-Treasurer of the Beta Kappa, Captain of the Second Basketball Team, a member of the Tennis and Badminton Teams, Marg. enjoyed her week of boarding so much that she came back for more! Good luck at Varsity next year!

PREFECTS

Mary Wilkinson—Mary is Captain of our First Basketball Team and Chieftain of the Ross Clan. We shall always remember her extraordinary sense of humour (! !), dramatic ability and love of sports. If Mary puts as much into her nursing, next year, as she has into her school, we envy the nursing school!

V. ACADEMIC

Susan Anderson—Sue is our representative from Ottawa. She is also a member of the Fifth Form's renowned bridge group and of the Glee Club and of The Ophelio. Next year, Sue plans to take an Arts Course at McGill.

Mary Bawden—After school, Mary is usually to be found following one of her favourite pursuits, skating or tennis, according to the season. With her boundless energy, Mary is a true lover of the country, and we wonder if she will forsake the city entirely in the future.

Elizabeth Beattie—Liz is a member of the Ophelio and an "Original" of the Noon Bridge Club. She's often heard saying ruefully "I've got to start studying!" We just never can tear her away from that Botany and Zoo! She will be at Normal School next year.

Audrey Budgeon—Our friendly President of VA is always on the go. She is an active member of the MacAlpine Clan, the Ophelio Society and the Senior Choir. She continually raves about "The North," by which she means, of course, New Liskeard, Ontario, and vicinity. Next year she will go to Queen's Stella Chang—Good-natured and quiet, Stella is one of our House Proctors. But don't let that quiet exterior fool you—Stella can vehemently win an argument when she wants to! She intends to take medicine at U. of T. next year. There is soon going to be great progress in the medical world!

Jacquelyn Fenton—Quiet and serious, but with an excellent sense of humour, Jackie found Islington too far away and became a "wild borderer" for two terms! A member of the Ophelio, this efficient Sub-Prefect will study nursing at the Toronto Western Hospital. Good luck, Jackie!

Judith Ferguson—Our lively newcomer from Ovenden is a keen skier. Judy has brightened many a gym class with HER interpretation of Scottish dancing. Her ambition . . . to enter Fine Arts at McGill, where we are sure her fun-loving nature will be appreciated.

Catherine Findlay—Sub-prefect, President of VB, chieftain of the MacLeod Clan, Catie is our harmonica-playing, bugle-blowing gal from Carleton Place! Always good-natured and gay, she is the girl who supplies the music at Sherb house parties.

V. ACADEMIC

Margaret Fitzmaurice—Peggy came to us from Jamaica. Among her interests we find reading and stamp collecting. She kept Sherborne House supplied with interesting literature during the year. Good luck, always, Peggy, and bon voyage!

Glenna Fletcher—Our wavy blonde of VA is a member of the Beta Kappa and the bridge enthusiasts. Is her favourite subject really Maths? Best-known expression — "Elizabeth" (usually to a departing figure!) Next year will will see Glenna in Nursing at Western Hospital.

Katherine Gilehan—Want advice, sympathy, cheering? Just go to the Secretary-Treasurer of VA. Kathy plans to study Occupational Therapy, and we know that anyone in her care will want to stay there. Best of luck, Kathy.

Elaine Goodman—Elaine, who comes from Espanola, has been at Branksome for three years. She is a Beta Kappa Committee member. We shall miss her nice sense of humour. Her plans include a Physio-Therapy course at the University of Toronto.

Barbara Goodear—Barb rants and roars like a true Newfoundland! This blonde member of the Beta Kappa is noted for her early morning serenades and is constantly "collapsing on her ear." We wish her the best of luck in nursing next year.

Katharine Home—Kit comes to us this year from Ovenden, although her real stamping ground is Oakville. Although she has been with us only a short time, we shall miss her at Branksome. Kit's future is as yet undecided, but we know that she will enjoy whatever she undertakes.

Judith Hotchkiss—This tall brunette, VB's Vice-President, is a most enthusiastic horsewoman, and that sleepy expression might well be attributed to a 6 a.m. canter! Judy's favourite expression is, "I'm afraid I won't be able to make it to-day, but . . ." Next year, Judy plans to study at Varsity.

Betty Lapointe—Betty, who comes from Noranda, Quebec, is another member of our famous "Northerners." With her sense of fun and her collection of amusing accents, Betty has been a most entertaining boarder at Sherborne House. We wish her luck in her training at Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal.

Lena Liu—One of China's contributions to B.H.S., Lena has certainly raised the academic standard of VA. As our Library Representative this year, she's done an efficient job. Lena is an industrious and genial worker who, we're sure, will succeed in S.P.S. at the University of Toronto.

Betty McNiven—Our Wild West import from Victoria. Demure and quiet, except on nighty prowls or early in the morning, Betty is a skating enthusiast, renowned for her giggle. She will make a wonderful nurse, always kind and friendly. Best of luck with the Sick Children's, Betty.

V. ACADEMIC

Mary Mitchell—This cheerful inhabitant of the top floor of Sherborne House can often be found knitting cable socks. She can also be found in the pool many a Friday night. Favourite topic—Montreal. Her future is linked about Macdonald. Best of luck, Mary.

Jean Morice—Give this quiet Sub-Prefect a job to do and it will be done—well done, and on time! Noted for her pleasant smile, Jean's chief interest is Skating—Skating—Skating! Future—Skating!

Alaine Murray—Alaine is a newcomer from Lawrence Park this year. She is a true make-up artist and can be seen at any of our plays expertly dabbing grease paint on the actresses! Future??

Carole Perry—Carole is a Sub-Prefect and another Kingsway representative. When she is not running off to her dancing—an art at which she excels, she spends her time in the swimming pool! She is planning to study Physical Education next year.

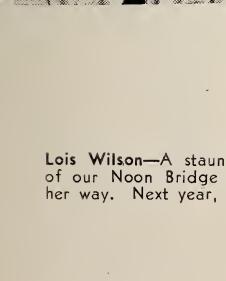

Ruth Pidgeon—"I say, girls, did you see that Jaguar go by?" Ruthie, when not reading British motor magazines, listening to Opera, or amazing us with her knowledge of history, occupies her time writing for "The Slogan," acting, debating, or planting trees! Future . . . English and history at "Vic."

Hilary Simister—Those who do not know her do not realize the fiery qualities that lie beneath that sweet, demure exterior. A ski enthusiast, Hilary hails from Port Burwell. We are sure that she will make a success of the nursing career that she has chosen.

Mary Twible—"Twib" has done a tremendous job this year as Vice-President of the Beta Kappa and of VA, and as a Sub-Prefect. Her interests are sailing and swimming, but Twib is also known for her extraordinary spelling and for her will-power. Probable future—Home Economics at Varsity.

Margaret Webster—A lively member of the Beta Kappa Committee Peggy loves wandering! She can often be seen taking off for Oakville or even Buffalo. Pet aversion—Algebra? Gay and lively, Peggy may continue her scholastic career at the University of Toronto.

Lois Wilson—A staunch member of the Beta Kappa, Treasurer of VB and a member of our Noon Bridge Club. Lois has not mastered Blackwood yet, but she's well on her way. Next year, Lois hopes she "ken" take a Secretarial Course.

THE BRANKSOME SLOGAN

V. ARTS

June Bongard—This is "June Girl's" first year at Branksome. She is Northern's loss and our gain. June takes an active interest in sports and is a strong swimmer. Future—possibly further study—at Macdonald Hall.

Margaret Bresnan—Our tall Michigander, known as "Dee Dee", is secretary of V Arts, a member of the Beta Kappa, and the life of the party. She would give all her wares to go to Michigan State. Good luck, Dee Dee.

Ann Louise Cook—"Cookie" comes to us from Havergal. Her smiles and chuckles help to keep us bright and cheerful. Pet saying—"But Miss MacMurdo, couldn't you do it my way?" Pet aversion... collecting jazz records! Future... Cookie hopes to make nursing her career.

Heather Cowie—Joining V Arts just before Christmas, Heather has been a welcome addition to the class. She is a member of the Ophelio Committee. Keenly interested in sports, she excels in badminton and golf. Good luck in whatever career you choose, Heather.

Barbara Croft—A native of Toronto and a second generation Branksomite, Barbara has been in the school for two years. Interested in writing, Barbara has a flair for composition. We wish her the best of luck and success in the future.

Olive Crombie—Olive has been at Branksome for six years. Her cheery smile helps brighten up the classroom and she tops the class in marks! Pet saying—"But Heather, we can't—" Pet aversion—doing it anyway! Future—Olive hopes to study modelling next year.

Janet Dale—Known in the Sherborne House Classroom as "Til," Janet is President of V Arts as well as a member of "The Big Seven." She hopes to make nursing her career, and we wish her every success.

Mary Galbraith—Better known as "Skip," Mary is completing her fourth year at Branksome. Very fond of sports, especially of bowling and basketball, she is best known for her friendly smile. Although her future is undecided, we wish "Skip" the best of luck.

Susan Illingworth—Moved and carried—"Wherever Sue is, the world smiles around her!" Our Bundle from Britain was a Library Representative, a Sub-Prefect, and a gymnast. Develop a Canadian accent to take home with you, Sue! We send warmest greetings with you to all our friends across the sea!

Janice Jones—"Bones" came to us from Forest Hill three years ago. She shows an interest in sports and is an able badminton player. As yet Jan's future is undecided, but we all wish her the best of luck.

V. ARTS

Lorna Keene—This energetic member of the Beta Kappa Committee comes from Oakville and is noted for her bubbling personality. Although she is an Art enthusiast, Lorna enjoys flinging herself over the apparatus in gym class. We wish her the best of luck in Art and Designing next year.

Jane Lightbourn—Jane hails from Bermuda and is one of the island's enthusiastic water skiers. Always willing to help, she possesses a wonderful school spirit. Jane plans to continue her education at the Boston College of Fine Arts.

Anne Matthews—This Opheleo member came to Branksome from Guelph three years ago. Her favourite sports are skiing, swimming and tennis. Anne is also a lover of dogs, singing, camping and travelling. If you ever need an efficient nurse, call her any time after 1954!

Betty Anne Rough—This is Betty Anne's second year at Branksome, where she has won many friends. Pet saying—"Stop everything!" This member of "the Big Seven" has hopes of becoming a prominent horsewoman.

Maureen Senior—Moe has been at Branksome for ten years. This travelling student is with us only two terms each year because she is tied up "on ice." Destination—Olympics!

Katharine Smith—"Katy" may sometimes be observed in the thick of traffic between Toronto and Guelph. This active member of the Beta Kappa Committee enjoys wakening roommates early in the morning. This summer will see her taking part in water skiing events in Europe. New York next autumn?

Elizabeth Tubby—Liz is one of "The Big Seven" and a member of the apparatus group. Can be seen on Monday morning wandering around in a daze! She is going to Europe this summer and expects to attend Macdonald Hall in the fall.

Jo Anne Warwick—Jo is a travel-lover from Blenheim, Ontario. Among her many interests are sailing, photography and hockey. Her "bit of wit" and her "I've got news for you" will long be remembered by her class-mates. Future—College?

Lorraine Watson—Our petite actress comes from Midland and is Vice-President of V. Arts. Peg is famous for her cheerfulness, Wednesday night visitors, photography, and swimming. With that smile, she is sure to succeed in whatever she does.

THE BRANKSOME SLOGAN

V. COMMERCIAL

Margaret Alexander—A Branksomite of some years standing, our cheerful little Peggy seems to be thinking of Grimsby. A member of V Commercial, she hopes to become a private secretary eventually. More power to you, Peg.

Barbara Annand—Barbie Sue, a member of the "Big Four" hails from Halifax. Her fortune seems to point to a return there, and to Stenography? Barb's "Oh, I'm so worried," is often heard—especially when giving Toni waves, or when there isn't any mail.

Joan Ashworth—who hails from Peru, is an Ophelio committee member and secretary-treasurer of V Commercial. After four years at Branksome, Joan leaves us to return to Peru, where she intends to make her career. We know she will succeed. Bon Voyage, Joan.

Joan Benson—A member of Beta Kappa committee, comes from Picton. We know that she will succeed in whatever she may do, especially after her experiences in the "Big Four" and in V Commercial, of course Joan plans to go to MacDonald Hall next year.

Joan Evans—This gay Vice-President of V Commercial (in the 80 per cent category) is full of northern sunshine. Joan comes from Espanola and her destination is Kingston. The fact that Queen's is there has nothing to do with the case.

Audrey Finch—A peppy girl from a variety of places, including St. Thomas. A member of the "Big Four" and a camp-lover, she has many talents. With her sense of humour and her friendliness, Audrey will do well in the future, we are sure.

Joyce McMillan—When not talking to Winona, Joyce is found calling "Seatmate." She comes from Georgetown and expects to return there. With her ukelele and her wit combined, she makes much of the laughter of the "Big Four."

Barbara Redpath—Barbara came to us from Lawrence Park Collegiate. She is Library Representative for V Commercial. Pet aversion—talking to Mrs. Partridge on the telephone. Future—Office work.

Margaret Ann Riley—Margaret Ann flew to us from Halifax in the autumn and has had a busy year in V Commercial. She has flown back during the holidays to see that everything is all right in "the Maritimes." The best of luck on your return in June, Margaret Ann.

IMPRESSIONS OF A NEW TEACHER AT BRANKSOME HALL

Talk given by one of the new members of the Staff at the Parents' and Teachers' Meeting, Oct. 30, 1950.

To a Scot, the name Branksome Hall brings to mind a spacious, rambling old house, set in a quiet countryside, possessing a dignity and charm of its own—a friendly atmosphere few could resist.

And thus it was I found the modern Branksome Hall one cold day last March when I set out, with some trepidation, to have an interview with Miss Read.

During the two years I had been in Canada, the profusion of tartan—particularly in Rosedale—struck me as rather a strange phenomenon. It is true that many Canadians believe that Scotland is full of people who have red hair, wear kilts and live sparsely on porridge and haggis. But nowhere in Scotland had I seen tartan worn as often and in such quantity as over here.

And so that day in March it was all explained away. As I came out of Branksome Hall it seemed that things were less strange. Although this was Canada and this Branksome Hall was, according to our standards, fairly new, there was here that link with Scotland and her people that would make me feel welcome and at home.

My teaching days have been spent mostly in city schools in Scotland. Some old, some modern—mostly in restricted surroundings, with noisy traffic in the immediate vicinity. The beauty of the Branksome grounds have great appeal. At Readacres the outlook from the many windows, changing with the seasons, the squirrels hurrying across the lawns and the occasional pheasant, the wide lawns and tall trees, the quiet corners, busy playgrounds—all in their own way contribute in the building of the children's characters. Surely it is a unique situation—a country school right in the heart of a city.

I believe that unless children are happy in school and a spirit of friendliness exists throughout, there is little a teacher can do successfully. The children must feel within themselves that the school welcomes them—is prepared to do its best by each one of them, while they in turn, by their diligence and striving together are helped along the road of life.

This great spirit of friendliness and genuine love of school is an outstanding feature of Branksome Hall. One meets it everywhere from day to day and on many occasions among pupils of other days. This seems to be in no small way due to the efforts of the members of the teaching staff and their example of cheerfulness and fair play. Because of this I find the girls easy to get along with and enjoy their friendly chatter. They are so approachable.

Yes, it is school, but school with a difference. School where girls study, where they have their likes and dislikes, where they are occasionally unhappy but mostly have too many interesting things to do. Where each child is an individual, and, best of all, a school where every girl feels at home.

FORM FORUM

FIRST FORM REPORT

The first event of a busy year was the form picnic at Clansdale Heights late in September. We express our gratitude to our form teachers, Miss Boyes and Miss Bell, for making this excursion such a great success.

Our form was well represented on the Fourth Basketball Team by Margot Thompson, Joyce McMackon, Sue Savage and Elizabeth Wilson. In the inter-form basketball game IB was victorious over IA and worked up to the semi-finals where it was defeated by VA.

First form is especially proud of its room in the new building which was completed just before Easter. They are bright and cheerful and we think everyone will agree with us that the working conditions are much better.

In a competition between the sections of forms I and II for the best bulletin-board decorations, IB came out at the top with an old-fashioned Easter Parade scene.

We visited the Harris Water Purification and Pumping Plant on April 10th, where we were taken on a tour of the beautiful building by guides who explained the process of purification and the uses of the various pieces of equipment. Many thanks to our science teachers, Miss Bell and Mrs. Anderson, for a very interesting and enjoyable afternoon.

On May 4th our form presented three hilarious plays. A pantomime, "And the Lamp Went Out," was produced by IA under the direction of Shelagh MacKenzie. IB chose two short plays: "Greek Meets Greek," directed by Jane Hetherington, and "Mary Jane and the Census Taker," which was directed by Joyce McMackon.

Janice McBride, IA's President, was also the villain in the class play. Jane Morgan added to her duties as Vice-President the coaching of the class basketball team, and Joan Barrington, our heroine in the class play, is our secretary-treasurer.

The President of IB, Judy Broome, and Joyce McMackon, Vice-President, are noted for their cheerful smiles and their way of managing things. Margot Thompson, who is the secretary-treasurer of IB, worked hard collecting money for missions during Lent with the result that IB came third in the contest, and Margot's efforts were rewarded.

For many of us, this has been our first year at Branksome, and through the co-operation of our class-mates and teachers we have made it a very happy and eventful one. We are looking forward to many more years at Branksome in which we hope to play a larger part in the school activities.

SECOND FORM REPORT

This year has been a very busy one for all Second Formers. At the beginning of the winter term we moved from the Harrogate Classrooms and we now reside in state in the up-to-date new building. We settled down quite nicely after the first few novelties wore off—such as counting the number of holes in the soundproof ceiling. (There are 53,047).

We feel we owe a great deal to our form teachers, Miss Taylor and Mrs. Anderson, and also to our hard-working form officers. We salute the Presidents, Janet MacDonald of IIA and Ruth Griffin of IIB. The Vice-President of the A form is Molly Hewitt, and of the B form, Carol Simon. IIA's great success during Ramabai Week was due to the financial genius of the Secretary-Treasurer, Jackie Oldham. Jackie is also a very talented skater. Joyce Wilson of IIB was very successful as treasurer in her form. Our library representatives, Noreen Philpot and Ruth Ann Mellish, made sure that all library fines were paid.

Basketball was popular this year and we were well represented on the fourth team by Joy Cassels, Shelagh Thompson, Jackie Oldham, Joan Engholm and Molly Hewitt. Judy Lovering was a star of the second team.

Skiing was curtailed this winter, but most of us managed to hit the ski trails at least once at the farm or at Collingwood. The weather has been rather uncooperative for spring sports, but we manage to get out on the tennis courts or the baseball diamond between showers. So, with the exams ahead and rehearsals for the form plays under way we bring the second form scene up to date.

I think you will agree with us that this has been a very happy and successful year for Second Form.

THIRD FORM REPORT

The whistle blew! The score was 24-16 and IIIA had carried away the Form Basketball Cup in the final game with VA and VB. Babs Thomson, Daphne Turpel, Sue Marshall, Mary Bradshaw, Marilyn McClaskey, Marilyn Foord, June Binnie, Wendy Simpson, and Nancy Currier made up the team which was captained by Babs Thomson. In IIIB there were also many basketball enthusiasts, the most energetic were Wendy Rogers, Marjorie Scott, Marnie Latimer, Joan Smith, Vonnie Davis, Betty Ashworth, Martha Macnab, Jean West and Lee McGillivray who were on the Form Team.

Third Form had a good representation on school basketball teams. Daphne Turpel was on the Second Team, and Babs Thomson, June Binnie, Jean Wahlroth, Wendy Rogers and Janet Howard (captain) were on the Third Team.

On April 25th, IIIB presented an amusing play entitled "Moya Manages." Moya was cleverly portrayed by Gloria McKenzie, Ron Simpson by Lee McGillivray, and Lady Simpson by Martha Macnab. Joan Smith was the director.

"Variety is the spice of life," at least IIIA thinks it is, for this year they had a variety show instead of a play. Everyone in the class took part in "The Thing," which was under the direction of June Binnie, Babs Thomson, and Jean Wahlroth. June organized "Highland Dancing," Babs, "The Medley," and Jean a song and dance routine, "One of the Roving Kind." Betsy Krook was the master of ceremonies with the assistance of Mrs. Schaffter. After the show, a "shindig" was held in IIIA's abode.

FOURTH FORM REPORT

On the morning which marked the re-opening of school last September, rooms IVA and IVB were buzzing with excitement and have remained in this same state throughout the year. From that day school events and activities have whisked us through the busy months and now the year is almost at an end.

In the early fall, we fourth formers, accompanied by our teachers, Miss MacNeill and Miss Craig, and the fifth formers, went on our annual picnic to Clansdale Heights and all had a gay time.

The sports programme has been a heavy one and from the fourth form emerged with flying colours basketball enthusiasts Connie Stiles, Shirley Mair and Gwen Thomas, swimmers Lou Carnahan and Joan Archer, and badminton champion Peggy Porter.

Our able form officers are: Presidents, Mary Barnett and Sonya Snyder who are obliged to answer to, "Who is the President in here?" the question of the irate teacher from the adjacent form; Vice-Presidents, Wendy Wilson and Nancy Patten; Secretary-Treasurers, Judy Jephcott and Nancy Lyle,

FOURTH FORM

First Row: P. Porter, J. Jones, N. Patten, S. Mair, M. L. Carnahan, G. Purdy, J. Jephcott, B. Balmer, J. Archer, R. Barr.

Second Row: N. Blythe, M. H. Swayne, C. Field, G. Laing, J. Smith, N. Barber, W. Large, S. Lyon, M. Chamandy, J. Wilson.

Third Row: M. McGinn, M. Barnett, G. Thomas, A. Vale, M. Moore, H. Finnemore, E. Rich, N. Hinchcliffe

Fourth Row: E. Thomson, J. Kerr, N. Lockhart, C. Stiles, M. Courtney, J. Davidson, M. Hambleton, I. Longfield, J. Rice, C. Godwin.

Fifth Row: S. Smith, D. Sparks, M. Green, S. Drennan, S. Snyder, J. Logie, N. Lyle, J. Cosgrave, B. Thomson, J. Farewell.

Absent: V. Frost, J. Cope, W. Wilson, J. Laurence, G. Cowie, F. Matthews, M. Mitchell.

whose hue and cry is "Ramabai," or "Will the monitors please clean the boards at least once this week?" and Library Representatives, Rita Barr and Lou Carnahan.

Two very entertaining plays were produced this year: "The Spinsters of Lusche" and "The Bathroom Door" under the direction of Judy Jephcott and Shirley Mair. Starring in these attractions were Vyvyan Frost, Joy Logie, Mary Barnett, Anne Vale, Joan Archer, Sonya Snyder, Peggy Porter, Nancy Lyle, Georgina Laing, and Lou Carnahan. We are also proud of Mary Barnett, Rita Barr, Vyvyan Frost and Ann Vale for their performances in the school play, "Dear Ruth."

On Friday, April 9, we held our form party at the home of Vyvyan Frost. Now Strawberry Festival time is close at hand and we know it will be a wonderful affair (especially the strawberries!)

We would like to wish Mary Barnett a "bon voyage" on her Garfield Weston trip to Britain this summer, and a special get-well wish to Vyvyan Frost.

See you next fall, Branksome!

ARTS AND COMMERCIAL

Here we are, the mighty three—Five Arts, Five Commercial and Four Arts. Our activities for the school year have been so many, a page gives scarcely enough room to record them. (Oh! how did that get in there?) However, through the Home Economics Class we have found sporting strength, and through the Commercial Class, Guidance. (In business matters, that is).

At the beginning of the year we played basketball a great deal. Although we did not come out on top, it was a lot of fun, and we tip our hats to the winners.

Our Gym Demonstration, held in April, brought forth some of Five Art's and Five Commercial's hidden talents. The Scottish and English dances and Apparatus Display created quite a commotion. The classes deserve a lot of credit and are to be congratulated, but it is Miss Gilbert who deserves the "pat on the back," and we most certainly thank her.

On Parent's Night, Five Arts displayed Interior Decoration and History of Art in Five "A" and "B". Handicraft work was exhibited also, and the food eaten at the Dinner was made by the Arts Forms.

Not only Five Arts worked on this project. Four Arts had an excellent display of Sewing, Posters, and Cooking.

The Form Officers of Five Arts: President, Janet Dale; Vice-President, Peggy Watson; Secretary-Treasurer, Margaret Bresnan, and Library Representative, Susan Illingworth, were a great asset to the Form.

Five Arts came first in the Lenten Collection, getting the money in on the first day, thus earning a free period (which they never received). Four Arts came second, therefore deserving much credit, which we give you.

Our President of Four Arts, Bunnie Thomson, and her executive,

Vice-President, Marilyn Chamandy, Secretary-Treasurer, Gail Cowie, and Library Representative, Isobel Longfield, did a great job throughout the year and we thank them very much.

Margaret Ann Riley, President of Five Commercial, and her supporters, Vice-President, Joan Evans; Secretary-Treasurer, Joan Ashworth; and Library Representative, Barbara Redpath; will always be remembered for the last words each day: "Don't forget to clean up the classroom, and DON'T forget the wastepaper baskets in the Typing Room." They were wonderful Form officers, and we wish them luck always!

It goes without saying how much our Form Teachers have contributed to make this year such a success. Mrs. Partridge deserves a medal for her great patience and understanding, and most of all for her most helpful guidance. Our lives depend on ourselves most of the time, if we succeed, but it will be through her guidance, that our success will last.

Mrs. Perry, with her "Bit of Wit", her accent, and most of all her understanding, has made this year a most enjoyable one for us all. Many thanks go to her from Five Arts.

Miss MacMurdo as Form Teacher of Four Arts receives most hearty "thanks" from one and all.

FIFTH FORM REPORT

Let us catch a glimpse of the Fifth Form class room at Branksome Hall during the lunch period. The room is like a beehive . . . Buzz, Buzz, Buzz. Two people argue vehemently about the Basketball Team. Two other kilt-clad lassies recoil painfully (result of gym class), as they are approached with an appeal for funds. The stampede of boarders released from lunch brings girls absorbed in letters, who are interrupted by the Head Girl, popping her head through the door to remind the class of a meeting.

Yes, we are a busy group, but not only at lunch time. The play, "Little Women," produced under Ruth Pidgeon's able direction, was supported by various up-and-coming actresses of the Fifth Form.

Our Basketball Team was defeated by only a slim margin in the semi-finals. Elsewhere in the field of sport, Marg Wansbrough and Eve Cassels shone brightly as badminton stars.

Mary Lue Farmer and Carol Jean Merritt were first-rate debaters in the contest against University of Toronto Schools.

Mary Morgan shone in the Verse Speaking Contest, and with other members of our class made us proud of the school play.

From far away places come Peggy Fitzmaurice, Betty McNiven, Barbara Goodyear, Betty Lapointe, and of course our two favourites, Lena Liu and Stella Chang.

We have two very capable Presidents in Audrey Budgeon and Cate Findlay. Under the guiding hands of Miss Phillips and Miss Sime, and with the co-operation of the ever-ready staff, we have had a happy year that we shall not readily forget.

Branksome Notes

THE NEW BUILDING

How true it is that no group of people can stand still — it must move forward or decline. It is a foregone conclusion, therefore, that Branksome as usual forged ahead this year. Probably the most noticeable sign of this progress was the slow but sure erection of a new building to house the first and second forms.

It is a long low structure attractively tucked behind Harrogate House facing the garden. (lucky people!) The rooms are very modern with the latest type of ceiling insulation, lighting, and arrangement of windows. Everything is glisteningly new and trim. Altogether it is an addition of which Branksome may be justly proud.

DID WE GET USED TO IT?

Your editor has been reading an article in last year's "Slogan," optimistically entitled, "We'll Get Used to It." "It" refers, of course, to the new traffic artery, the Mount Pleasant Extension, which has extended itself between two of our school properties.

Well, the mud is gone, and the pneumatic drills. The explosive sound of machinery has been replaced by the dull roar of cars, the irate blast of horns, and the scream of tortured rubber as a rush-hour driver loses his duel with the motorist next to him. The "cheerful gangs of workmen" have been replaced by cheerful gangs of policemen; motocycling about in the maelstrom, waving their little black books.

When the "perilous passage" was finally opened and the pack of machines unleashed, something obviously had to be done about the street crossing. Miss Read's battle to get the traffic lights, her conferences with the Traffic Department, her trips to City Hall, will long be remembered by the contending parties. We complain about waiting for the lights to change, but think of the good practice for the mathematics students, in trying to calculate how many vehicles go by per minute.

Seriously, what has the new road meant to Branksome? The Junior School has acquired a new home on the spacious Readacres property. Forms I and II are housed in a new and up-to-date building. Advantages, really, and the disadvantages are negligible. "Getting used to it" has been no problem at all. We can sincerely agree with last year's "Slogan" that there is no reason why changes necessary to progress should affect "Branksome's traditional tranquility."

A VISIT FROM THE LAUREL SCHOOL

At 7.45 on Friday morning, April 23rd, a number of sleepy but enthusiastic volunteers from Branksome stormed Union Station to greet the eagerly awaited visitors from the Laurel School of Cleveland, Ohio. When the train finally came in at 8.40, our worries about missing our guests disappeared. There they were—en masse.

We introduced ourselves and drove to school, where the visitors were welcomed by Miss Read and a cheering crowd of girls, waving the omnipresent Clan standards. The Laurel girls, accompanied by a staff member, Miss Maude Tomlin, were introduced individually to the school at Morning Prayers.

At noon, the Robert Simpson Company gave a group of Branksome girls and their visitors lunch in the Arcadian Court. After dinner at the school, there was a basketball game between hostesses and guests and the dancing of Scottish reels, in which "The Dashing White Sargeant" figured prominently. With the Branksome Honours the evening's fun was over . . . but not entirely. "Feasts" were held in Sherborne and Main Houses.

Features of Saturday's entertainment were tea at St. Andrew's College in Aurora, and dinner and a sing-song at the school farm.

Sunday morning was our usual one, with attendance at church and dinner at the school. Mrs. Gilday, our Head Girl's mother, gave a delightful tea for the Laurel School girls and the Branksome seniors in the afternoon.

After the Sunday evening service, our guests left to return to Ohio. Our worries about missing them arose again. We would miss them.

Activities . . .

THE GATHERING OF THE CLANS

The old Scottish tradition of the gathering of the clans is kept at Branksome where the clan meet is held annually. September 22 marked the opening of sports for the school year. Due to rain, the Clan Meet was held in the gymnasium, instead of on the spacious fields of Readacres.

After keen competition in running, hopping and skipping races, the Douglas Clan marched off with top honours—and the cake!

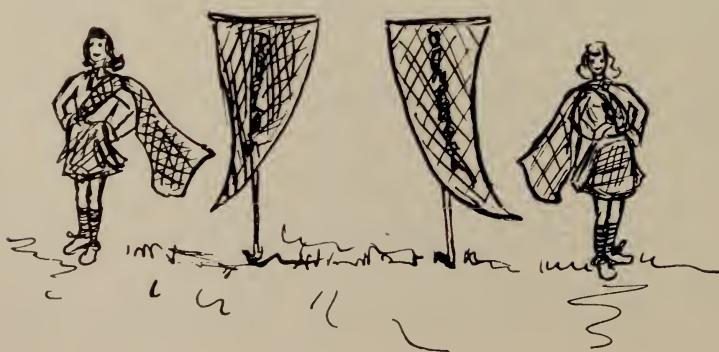

During the school year there is keen competition among the clans in swimming, basketball, volleyball, badminton and bowling. At the end of each year the clan winning the most points for these games receives the clan standard. The Scotts proudly carried off the standard last year and all eight clans are working hard for top honours in 1950-51. May the best clan win!

THE CAROL SERVICE

On December 10th, the last Sunday in the fall term, the triumphant chorus of "Masters in This Hall" began our traditional carol service in St. Andrew's Church.

This year, a slight change in the program seemed to make it even more beautiful than before. It was divided into two parts—the first entitled "Carols Old and New," an effective collection of carols from all ages and many countries and the second entitled "The Christmas Story in Pageant and Song!" The touching picture of the angels, the sweet mother and the Child combined with the soft strains of "Sleep! Holy Babe!" left an impression on all our minds which was not soon to be forgotten. It seemed to make the life of Christ more real to us.

Great appreciation and thanks are due to Mrs. Coutts and to Mme. Perry for their hard work and untiring effort in this service.

DEBATE—B.H.S. vs. U.T.S.

On February 16th, Branksome renewed her annual debate with University of Toronto Schools, to the delight of a gymnasium full of eager listeners.

The subject was indeed a controversial one—"Resolved That Chivalry Is Dead."

The Branksome team—Ruth Pidgeon, Carol Merritt, and Mary Lou Farmer, fought hard on the affirmative side.

The U.T.S. team, consisting of Bill Corcoran, Michael Shoemaker, and Michael McKeown, supported the negative. Scott Simons of U.T.S. made an admirable chairman.

The boys managed to prove their point fairly early, by helping the girls with their chairs whenever possible, offering them glasses of water, and standing when the judges appeared on the scene.

While Ruth Pidgeon and Carol Merritt were extremely good in bringing out their points, we feel that Mary Lou Farmer, with her "sincerity, conviction and humour", (Maclean's Magazine, 1950), deserves special mention.

Michael McKeown, the last speaker for the negative, shocked everyone by announcing that U.T.S. (motivated by chivalry, of course), conceded the debate. After much applause, however, he resumed his argument, to give U.T.S. the victory.

DRAMA REPORT

Although scheduled for March 2nd, the school play was not held until March 16th because of 'flu in the city. This year we did Krasna's "Dear Ruth" and it was a tumultuous success! Miss MacNeill and Miss Sime had done their usual excellent job of directing. The prompter, Katherine Smith, was faithful and patient, while the incredible work of Miss Gilbert (and her crew) on properties left us both amazed and grateful (home-made forsythia!)

Mary Morgan and Vivian Frost in the leading roles of Ruth and Bill were a convincing pair, the victims of the letter-writing "villainess" amusingly played by Ruth Pidgeon. Allison Roach gave a well-sustained and brilliant performance as Father, ably supported by Peggy Watson as Mother. Mary Barnett brought down the house as the deluded Albert who was always left holding the bag! Ann Vale and Carol Jean Merritt as Martha and Chuck made a happy (and handsome!) pair. Rita Barr as Dora and Mary Lou Rennicks as Harold Kobbermeyer held their own very well also. As usual both cast and audience enjoyed this annual event.

BETA KAPPA REPORT

October 27, 1950.

Dear Diary:

What a day! All of us witches on the Beta Kappa were stewing over our cauldrons today, preparing a brew for a night of entertainment. The gym was decorated for our annual Hallowe'en Square Dance. With all those black cats, witches and skeletons glaring down at us from the walls, everybody had to kick up her heels and have a good time. Before the dancing started, anyone with talent climbed onto the stage to perform—but without a doubt the staff's skit was by far the best. No one could lead our symphony orchestra better than Sir Ernest MacMillan, except Miss Read!—and no one could sing better than Lois Marshall except Mrs. McLelan!

December 8, 1950.

Dear Diary:

I haven't written for a long time, but now here's something to write about—the Fourth and Fifth Form Dance! The downstairs of Sherbourne House was all changed around, (I still can't figure out where everything went). Two big Christmas trees, bien décoré, and other smaller ones, the balloons and streamers, created quite a Christmas atmosphere. Aside from a fuse blowing so that the coloured lights couldn't go on, everything was fine. Sandwiches and cookies, coffee and cokes were served by candlelight. Thanks to Joey Broughall we were able to get Eaton's Bandbox to come and play for us. It's always disappointing when evenings like this end, isn't it?

January 19, 1951.

Dear Diary:

It's rather late to be writing now; so I'll not make this very long. If I ever see another balloon again, I think I shall turn into one! People were blowing up all day long—the balloons that is! As we had for the Fourth and Fifth, prizes were presented for spot dances, etc., but we saw to it that the winners had to work for them. We certainly feel very grateful to Miss Read for all that was done for us. A new and wonderful way of serving a light supper was initiated this year, and I think that everyone agrees that it was very atmospheric. Ooh, I am tired. Jack Fowler certainly inspired me to make the round of the dance floor.

Well, probably nothing interesting will happen until the Grad Dance in May, so I guess that will be my next entry. I'm certainly looking forward to that!

LYNN DIBBLEE,
President.

OPHELEO REPORT

Although we always seem to be asking you for money, we really do appreciate your co-operation, and on behalf of the officers of the Opheleo I would like to take this opportunity to thank you all for your great assistance in our campaigns. A special vote of thanks goes this year to the Junior School, who did a really wonderful job, and to our many loyal supporters outside Branksome.

During the past year we have sent our annual subscription to the Ramabai Mission, and at the Manmad Mission we have supported our teacher, Clarabai, and our orphan, Sakuntala. Then our yearly subscription has gone to the Branksome Hall bed at the Ludhiana Hospital in India. The Shantymen's Association, the Canadian Merchant Marine and Christian work among students in South America, Europe and China have also been sent donations as shown by the Treasurer's report.

So once again we thank Miss Read, the Staff and the girls for the enthusiastic assistance you have given during the year, enabling us to present this very fine report.

CLAIRE McMULLEN,
President.

THE MOD.

The gym demonstration was presented at 8 o'clock on the evening of April 20th. This year it was a gala affair, known as the "Mod," because many of the events were distinctly Scottish in character.

After Miss Gilbert's introductory talk, the Modern Dance Group gave a graceful demonstration of their art. Then the Fifth Form performed in English country dances. Next came a well executed display of gymnastic talent, and after that, the most eagerly anticipated event of the evening—the justification of the name, "Mod", the newly-learned Scottish dances.

The Scottish dances . . . the piper playing "The Reel o' Tulloch," the whirling figures, made us feel for a moment that we had been set down in some ancient Scottish baronial hall!

At the end of the evening, the Head Girl in full regalia, the Clan Chieftains with their standards, the Gym Team and the dancers, marched in, formed a square, and the Branksome Honours were given. The effect was thrilling, and the scene one that every girl will remember. The singing of "Auld Lang Syne" marked the close of our first "Mod." We are grateful to Miss Gilbert, with her hard work and enthusiasm, for making this event an unqualified success.

THE SENIOR CHOIR

This year something new has been added to the life of Branksome. Under the directorship of Mrs. Coutts the Senior Choir has been formed. The music is as varied as the voices, and we hope that the choir will be maintained in the years to come. The first annual program will be on May 1st. May we take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Coutts for her help and inspiration.

CALAMITY IN THE CLASSROOM

She arrived all snizzles and sneezles,
 By noon was all shivers and freezles,
 She glanced in the glass,
 And there in a mass,
 All over her face were—the measles!

REPORT ON RADIO BROADCASTS

M. L. Farmer

Due to the enthusiasm of Branksomites from first to fifth forms, the Branksome Broadcasting Corporation can boast one of its most successful years. The year, 1950-51 was highlighted with many excellent broadcasts, a few of which were: "Napoleon the Third," the story of that monarch's attempted invasion of France; an informative talk on the origin of the Scottish dress; and, "A Common Scribbler," the story of Charles Dickens, which was directed by our representatives in Form IVA.

A special Christmas broadcast, "Midnight in the Stable," by Elizabeth Goudge, was presented, featuring many of the familiar Christmas carols. The participants worked hard on this broadcast, cultivating French accents, and we feel it met with great success.

In April, the accent of "The Deep South" prevailed as "A Spy of the Confederacy" was broadcast. This was the story of a young Southerner, Sam Davis, who became involved as a spy during the Civil War in the United States. He was captured trying to pass a message on to his commander fighting in Tennessee, and was finally hanged as a spy. The broadcast ended with the strains of "Old Black Joe," and the mopping of numerous eyes.

With the aid of Miss MacNeill and through the co-operation and helpfulness of all its members, the "B.B.C." has brought down the curtain on another enjoyable season.

(WITH APOLOGIES TO POE)

Once upon a school night dreary as
I studied weak and weary
Over many French and Latin lessons of a plentious store,
While I pondered, nearly napping, seemed to me I heard a rapping
As of someone bold and strapping knocking on the hardwood floor.
'Tis some Charleston fan aswinging, thought I as I heard the stamping,
Only this and nothing more!

BADMINTON AND BOWLING

Many times during the Winter term, Branksomites made their way to the bowling alleys and badminton courts at St. Paul's Church. This year Branksome bowed to Havergal and Bishop Strachan School to take third place in the inter-school badminton tournament.

Eve Cassels brought honour to the MacGregors by winning the singles in the Clan tournament, and Peggy Porter and Sue Savage teamed up to win the doubles for McLeod.

Many girls took part in the badminton competition for the school championships this year. The singles tournament was won by Eve Cassels. Vonnie Davis and Peggy Porter again competed, to win the doubles for the second time.

Bowling also aroused keen interest about the school. Clan Bowling scores show the Scotts first, the McLeods second and the Campbells third.

Bowlers representing Branksome in the inter-school competition were Daphne Turpel, Ann Gilday and Lee McGillivray. These girls were successful in bringing top honours to Branksome.

SWIMMING

Swimming started off with a bang-up splash this fall with many eager enthusiasts under the watchful eye of Miss Garneys, who made sure that everyone who went under, came up again. The competition was brisk in the annual inter-class swimming meet with the MacLeods topping the list, closely followed by the Scott and the Maclean Clans.

Royal Life Saving classes were started in the fall but will have to be completed this term as the pool was closed after Christmas.

The Inter-School meet was slated for March 16th, but with so much 'flu in the air it was postponed and will take place some time in May. Branksome, placing second last year, is looking forward to the 1951 competition with hopes held high.

GOLF AND VOLLEYBALL

Once again the Volleyball Tournament aroused the enthusiasm of all the clans. Every year this sport gains a great deal of support and this year was no exception. All the contestants worked hard, but the Rosse showed their superiority by defeating the Clan MacGregor in the finals "—Something new has been added" at Branksome—Golf! On the first Friday after school opened in September, the Inter-School Golf Tournament, reorganized by Miss Ada MacKenzie, was held at Thornhill. Bishop Strachan School took top honours, winning by one stroke over Branksome Hall with Havergal, Saint Clement's and Saint Hilda's following respectively.

The Branksome team consisted of Sonya Snyder, Janet Howard, Nancy Lyle, Joy Cassels, Judy Lovering and Eve Cassels.

Janet Howard had the low score for the day—103. Ask any one who knows—that is good golf in a Junior Tournament.

We hope that this new talent that has been uncovered at Branksome will not be buried again; the tournament was so successful that we feel it should be a yearly event.

BASKETBALL REPORT

Early in September, through wind and rain, basketball enthusiasts were again found crowding the courts to try out for the school teams. After weeks of strenuous practice the four teams were chosen, and under the able guidance of Miss Gilbert, another successful and exciting basketball season began.

The First Team played its best game against Havergal when Branksome emerged without a single foul . . . and victorious at that. Against Moulton, St. Clement's and Bishop Strachan we were not so successful, but good sportsmanship and hard playing made the matches interesting for players and spectators alike.

The Second Team upheld Branksome's good name by winning two out of four games. The Third and Fourth Teams showed exceptional promise, and we expect great things of them in the years to come.

games was played by the Douglases and the MacGregors, competing for the Clan Cup. It was a close match all the way, and the score remained tied until the last minute, when Clan Douglas scored the winning basket and carried off the cup.

The Inter-Form tournament was another interesting one and IIIA took honors by defeating Fifth Form. For shame, Graduating Class! Concentrating on studies too much?

The high light of the basketball season was the Old Girls Game. Miss Read entertained the Old Girls at a delightful dinner before the contest. The game was a well-fought one, but the First Team was defeated by the Graduates.

On Friday, February 25th, the final game of the season was played against the Laurel School of Cleveland, Ohio. Branksome won, but it was all so much fun that it is doubtful if anyone noticed who the victors were.

All in all, this has been a very successful basketball season, thanks to Miss Gilbert and the girls who made it so.

Legamus!

Translation From the Latin

O FONS BANDUSIAE

(Horace Odes. III, 13)

O fountain of Bandusia
Thy water is so clear,
Thy trickling streams so musical,
Come all, bring sweet wine near!
Strew dainty flowers here!

Lo! in the sunny morning,
A gift shall we present,
A kid with small horns budding
For love and battle meant
In vain! To you he's sent!

Warm blood will soon be mingled
With thy pure waters chill,
One of the herd so singled
To praise thy tinkling rill,
To bow before thy will.

The fierce and blazing Dog star
Shall never vanquish thee,
For wandering oxen from afar
From heavy ploughs shall see
Thy cooling comfort free.

Thou wilt be a famous fountain
For thy music swells my song,
And from valley and from mountain
My echo will go round,
On people's tongues resound—

Of the leafy spreading oak-tree
That above these rocks has grown,
From whence thy tumbling
bubbling sea
Of purest water's thrown,
And they cooling spray is blown.

THE HUNTING PARTY

(Vergil—The Aeneid)

Aurora, rising, leaves the sea,
The sun beams forth upon the band
Of chosen youth, as forth they come
With hunter's spears and snares in hand.
Together thronging in a rush,
With dogs Massylian horsemen
ride,
Without the portals of the queen
The Carthaginian princes bide.
The splendid horse with thunderous foot
In regal colours of the train
Now fiercely champs his foaming bit
With proudly arched and flowing mane.
In robe of purple clasped with gold
The queenly Dido, wondrous fair,
Midst surging crowds of people,
comes
A golden knot in her shining hair.
The happy Iulus and Phrygian men
Move forward with that hero tall
Aeneas, as he joins the queen,
The handsomest man before them
all.

NOCTURNE

Out of the friendly, fire-lit room
 I stepped into the splendoured night,
 And saw unending vistas loom—
 Air's acres paralyzed with light.
 I watched star pinnacles ascend
 The roaming regions of the dark—
 Pillared pavilions, at whose end
 There lies the ghost-crewed sailing-bark.
 And blind with icy Grandeur's
 stare,
 I heard the shadowed Lord invoke
 These faithless fires, and in the glare

 I missed the face of Him who spoke.
 Still, even though I lost the truth
 That lies abroad on nights like this,
 Still, though proud, not quite aloof,
 For certain things I could not miss—
 The caverned constellations stair
 Upon whose step my soul has trod,
 The pallid moon, locked in its lair,
 Have proved, if not shown me,
 God.

LYNN DIBBLEE

WINTER DAY

Today was an old woman with apples in her cheeks,
 Wearing a bright scarf and laughing;
 She rose up happy at the dawn,
 With basket swinging on her arm,
 To do the business of the day;
 All through the hours she smiled and sang
 And warmed the hands of children in her own
 And carried laughter into empty lives;
 Then, when her work was done
 She gathered up her things and homeward trudged
 Across the still, white fields of dusk.

FOG

But yesterday, here was a common street,
 Where trees stood sharply etched against a sky,
 Where children played at hopscotch on the walk,
 And carts with wooden wheels went rumbling by.

Today, it is a strange unearthly spot
 Where trees are hidden in a dense gray shroud,
 Where children's cries are choked and strangely still,
 And sounds of life are muffled in a cloud.

Along this street I come with halting step
 Groping and stumbling in this world of chalk,
 Where thick damp mist creeps down inside my throat
 And footsteps make no sound upon the walk.

Junior Activities . . .

JUNIOR SPORTS

1950-51 has been a very successful year in sports for the junior school.

Basketball—During the fall our coaches, Claire McMullen, Mary Wilkinson and Mrs. Fleet, chose a basketball team. The players were:

Forwards: Gill Cleather, Diane Cope, Janny Lovering, Barbara Hambly, Wendy Lockhart.

Guards: Sue Strathy, Jane Magee, Kathy Broughall, Joanne

Wayman, Linda Stearns (Captain).

The team was successful in the games against Havergal and St. Clements, but lost to Moulton College and Bishop Strachan.

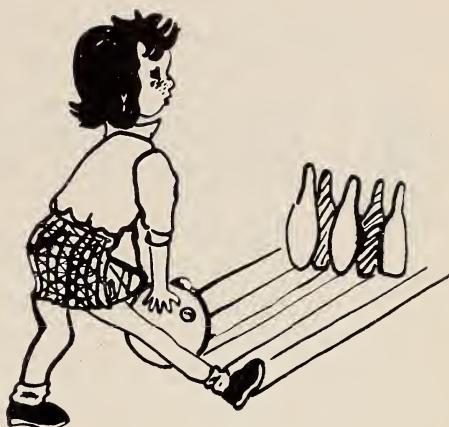

Baseball—In the clan playoffs, the Bruce clan triumphed over the Grant clan. An all-star team played Moulton College in the spring. The team players were: Sue Strathy, Gill Cleather, Diane Cope, Jane Magee, Linda Stearns, Janny Lovering, Gail Rideout, Kathy Broughall, Barbara Hambly, Joan Sanderson and Patsy Ireland.

Ping pong—Ping pong has become a favourite sport in the junior school this winter. Winners of the double tournaments were Sue Strathy and Janny Lovering (Grade 8), defeating Monica Ormstein and Diane McPhail (Grade 6). Previously defeated were Irma Garcia and Joyce Sanderson (grade 7), and Linda Young and Judy Jones (Grade 5).

Singles were won by Janny Lovering, defeating Ruth McGee. Winner of the consolation tournament was Irma Garcia.

Skating at Varsity this winter and skiing at the farm were not too successful as the weather was not consistently good.

We had a fall competition for running and standing broad and high jumping at Readacres. The picnic too, was a very happy event at the school farm.

Mrs. Fleet arranged a Clan Sports Day in the senior gymnasium in which members of the Bruce, Grant and Robertson clans took part. The Grant clan won the meet, Robertson coming second and Bruce finishing last.

Swimming—Perhaps the greatest carry over activity of the school sports is swimming. In the spring, Junior, Intermediate and Senior Red Cross tests were passed. These included a written test on water safety knowledges as well as water skills.

Bowling—Grades seven and eight were introduced to the game of bowling this year and excitement ran high as the days approached. The champion to date is Jane Magee of Grade Eight.

JUNIOR BASKETBALL TEAM

Second Row: J. Wayman, J. Magee, D. Cope, S. Strathy, K. Broughall.

ALUMNAE

THE BRANKSOME HALL ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION

Letter From The President

On behalf of the Alumnae Association may I extend greetings to all Branksome Hall graduates.

We are delighted to welcome members of the graduating class into our ranks. We hope that we will be able to present to you sufficient attractions that you will feel that you wish to be one of us. In turn, we hope, that through active participation, you will be able to contribute ideas and assistance to our Association.

To graduates of all classes from the years 1903 to 1951 your Executive pledges itself in terms of sincere endeavour to present to you, through re-organization efforts, a stimulating and varied alumnae programme.

Social and School friendships, loyalties and interest can be renewed by Alumnae Association membership.

Our group would like you to join, participate and perform—please do! Remember our Golden Jubilee in nineteen hundred and fifty-three!

BETTY WILLIAMSON LAYLER,

THE BRANKSOME SLOGAN

KATHLEEN C. SHAW

With the death on March 16th, 1951, of Miss Kathleen C. Shaw, Head of the Home Economics Department, Branksome lost a most loyal, beloved and valued member of the teaching staff. During her twenty-three years at Branksome Miss Shaw endeared herself to both the staff and the girls. Her unfailing interest in the girls and her readiness to advise and guide them continued many years after they had left school. Even during her last long illness she gave of her time generously and cheerfully. We shall all cherish the memory of her kind and valiant spirit.

Now... Before You Leave School

Before you leave school is the time to establish a banking connection. Whatever business or professional career you may have in mind, you will find that an early association with The Bank of Nova Scotia will be most helpful in the years to come. Start with a savings account . . . no amount is too small . . . and it is never too early to open an account.

Making money work harder

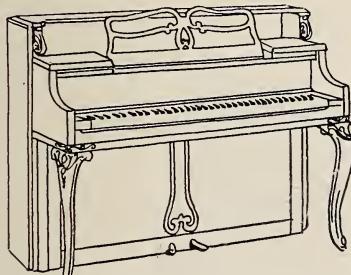

In the investment of money, indolence and profits never go together. No investor makes money merely by clipping the coupons. The truth is that successful investment requires constant study and alertness. It is by taking advantage of opportunities to make suitable changes in securities . . . to make money work harder . . . that investments succeed. If you find difficulty in giving this close attention to your investments, we invite you to call on our services.

BRANKSOME HALL

Johanna Broughall

Here She Is! Your Eaton Junior Rep. for 1950-1951

It's a wonderful two-way arrangement! Johanna keeps US posted on the news and views of all of you at Branksome . . . about your clothing preferences . . . about important school occasions! We, in turn, try to supply what YOU want . . . and, with special social events, make your school days the "best days of your life"! It's this co-operation that has made Eaton's—The Store For Young Canada!
